UNPROMOTED COMBAT FLIERS

One thing that gripes the boys at the front is the way a lot of the desk officers in the war department and others here at home seem to get promotions more rapidly than the boys who are up on the firing line. Some of them feel so badly about it that they aren't anxious to come home, though given opportunities of furlough, because they are outranked by their old friends at home.

For instance, most of the new pilots just arriving in England are second lieutenants. They haven't been on any missions at all. Meanwhile, men who have been in England for two years, and have been flying over Europe constantly, still remain second lieutenants.

"How many do you have?" asks some newly arrived pilot who has flown twice across the channel, each flight being a mission.

TIRE-RATION PROBE

The Office of Price Administration is quietly probing several cases of tire ration violations which promise to be sensational. They go right into some of the biggest tire companies of the country.

One of the big tire companies is being probed on a charge of having failed to void the tire ration certificates turned in to them by retailers. In other words, when a retail tire store or garage sells a tire, it has to send back to the tire manufacturer the certificate issued by the OPA ration board. However, the OPA is tracking down reports that these tire certificates, instead of being stamped as used, are going back to the dealers, or else remaining with them in the first place. Thus, they are able to sell more tires without requiring more certificates in exchange.

Another big company is being investigated by the OPA for buying up new tires of various makes from dealers and later reselling them through the company's own stores at considerable loss. Even though not the tires made by this company, the loss was considered a good investment because it got motorists into the habit of trading with this company's retail stores.

There may be some startling news breaking on this soon.

GERMANY'S SMART CHOICES

U. S. experts who have studied the Nazi military setup to resist invasion figure that Hitler—or whoever did the picking for him—was smart in his selection of German military leaders. Three of the best men in the German army have been given the job of combating what the Nazis know is the death thrust at Germany.

No. 1 is Field Marshal Karl von Rundstedt, considered the best strategist and over-all commander in Germany. Field Marshal Erwin Rommel, immediately under him, is the best man for lightning moves and panzer tactics.

Finally, Colonel General Heinz Guderian is considered the best tank commander in the German army.

U. S. experts, who believe in looking facts in the face, classify these three as among the top military brains of Europe.

DAYLIGHT SAVING TO END?

It looks as if daylight-saving time were going to be abolished without giving the President a chance to block the repeal.

Several resolutions have been introduced to abolish war time, as a result of protests from farmers in agricultural areas. These are now before Representative Clarence Lea of California and his Interstate Commerce committee, and it looks as if one of them would be reported out and passed.

If so, it cannot be vetoed by the President, for the original bill establishing war time provided that it was to end six months after the war, or upon a concurrent resolution by both houses of congress.

This latter provision precludes a veto, since resolutions are not subject to being overruled by the White House. In fact, Congressman Lea wrote his original daylight-saving bill in this form for the specific purpose of heading off the White House in case Congress wanted to abolish war time.

CAPITAL CHAFF

Every day the state department condenses foreign news developments for its officials both at home and abroad. It is one of the fairest news summaries in Washington.

¶ The navy is starting a school of government, similar to the army's at Charlottesville, Va., to train men to govern occupied territories. Some navy men are wisecracking that they don't need to train governors of occupation because the British take over all Pacific possessions as soon as we capture them. (The Solomons and New Guinea were largely British before the war.)

Center Operating, Nursery to Open

Campbell's youth program is well under way with the youth center in the Scout hall open every night from 7 to 11, except Wednesday, and Saturday from 7 to 12, where the young people can enjoy dancing, games, reading, organized entertainment, and a snack bar.

The nursery school, branch of the center, under the care of Miss Gladys Larson, will be open for registrations on Monday morning, June 26, in the grammar school kindergarten room.

Children 2 to 5 years old are eligible and hours are 6:30 a. m. to 6 p. m. For children of working mothers there will be no charge for supervision, but a fee of 35c per day for a simple noon meal, and midmorning and afternoon fruit juice and crackers will be charged.

For non-working mothers, 35c for food and an additional charge for supervision on a half or whole-day basis.

The third department of the center will be a supervised playground, where Miss Jewell Abbott will provide organized tournaments, crafts and rhythms for age group 6 to 13. These hours will be from 8 a. m. to 6, the time spent being optional except for registered children.

Miss Larson is asking for empty spools, orange crates, tin can nests (those that fit inside each other), toys useable but not in use, old ladies, wooden spoons, scoops, and blocks.

D. L. Goodrich Goes to Bomber Mechanics School

Keesler Field, Miss., June 12—Pvt. Duward L. Goodrich, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Goodrich of Campbell, has been rewarded for his excellent marks on army mechanical aptitude tests with enrollment in Keesler Field's B-24 Liberator bomber mechanics school.

Pvt. Goodrich will undergo a rigid and comprehensive 17-week course at this unit of the Army Air Forces training command. He will then be qualified for active duty with one of the AAF's B-24 units, or will attend a factory or gunnery school.

Pupils of Kathleen Bergeron Will Appear In Recital

Mrs. Kathleen Bergeron will present her pupils in an informal recital next Thursday evening in the Community hall at 8 o'clock, to which the public is invited.

Mrs. Bergeron conducts a successful piano studio for children, specializing in the very young generation.

Robert Roswell Gates, a Campbell high school graduate, and an active member of the young people's group of the Congregational church, is now an inductee inthe navy, through draft board 111.

Local Legion Post Receives Colors

Two outstanding events highlighted the Wednesday night meeting of Campbell Post No. 596.

Comrade Ed Stromeiher, past commander of Memory Post, presented Ross Fuller and Bill Shambaugh, local high school students who are delegated and sponsored by Willow Glen and Campbell posts respecively. The two youths are to attend Boys' State at Sacramento in the near future. At this gathering boys sponsored by Legion posts throughout California go to Sacramento, see the functioning of the state government in every phase. Highlight of Boys' State is the presence of the governor, and if the legislature is in session they may be among the spectators. About 6600 boys will be in attendance from all parts of the state.

Very appropriate and impressive, in that the meeting fell on Flag day, was the presentation to the local post of the colors, which were donated by the elected officers. Marc Vertin of Los Gatos made the presentation in behalf of the officers.

Commander Rex Fuller dedicated the colors and presented them to Comrade W. I. Merrill, who accepted them on behalf of the post.

The post meets on the second and fourth Wednesdays, in I.O.O.F. Hall at 8:00 p. m.

Robert H. Bruce of 205 N. Central avenue, left Monday for Monterey to start serving in the army. A farewell supper was given at his aunt's home, 55 Rincon avenue, on Sunday, and he received useful gifts to take with him. Present were his mother, Mrs. G. N. Megown, sisters Gloria, Juanita and Vaudine, uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Harvey, and cousin, Richard Harvey. Mr. Megown is serving with the army air corps somewhere in India.

Local War Bond Drive Is Slow

The quota for Campbell district for the 5th War Bond sale is $186,300, and reported to E. E. Lanphear, general chairman, to Wednesday were sales of only $17,300, with a week and a half of the month which is scheduled for the drive already passed.

Members of Orchard City Grange are in charge of sales for the rural area, and the Kiwanis club has the town.

Some solicitors have not actively canvassed their districts yet, but in case there are those who wish to make their purchases before being called on, they may do so at the G. E. Farley real estate office.

The committee urgently requests everyone to seriously consider the increasing tenor of the war and the need to supply our forces with every needed article to hasten victory and save precious lives, and then buy all the bonds possible.

Collision At Minna And Central Ave. Mon. Afternoon

Two cars were in collision on Monday afternoon at the intersection of Central avenue and Minna Street, resulting in Frena Johnson, 14, of Menker avenue, San Jose, being treated at the county hospital for cuts and bruises.

She was a passenger in the car driven by Marina Thomas, 20, of the same address, who was cited by the highway patrol for driving without an operator's license in possession.

Four Campbell People Graduate From State In '44

Campbell is represented by four students in the San Jose State graduating class of 253 seniors, who will receive diplomas at tomorrow's exercises to be held in the college quad.

Acquiring an A. B. degree with the March 1944 class is Lois Irene Bohnett who earned honors in mathematics and physics.

Receiving degrees in the June class Jeannette Louise Abbott, physical education, honors in physical education; Jewell Lee Abbott, physical education, honors in physical education; Gladys Irene Larson, home economics.

Rebekahs Confer Degrees June 20

Adah Rebekah lodge met Tuesday evening, June 20 with Eva Dahl, noble grand, presiding. Initiation was held, and the following received the Rebekah degree:

Ruth B. Livingston, Rena I. Fryer, Gail M. Plymale, Dorothy C. Hope, Mary J. Hargis and Mollie B. Crawley.

The lodge honored Mrs. Mary Brown on her 45th anniversary as a member of the lodge. Also present was Mrs. Jessie Campbell, a charter member. A short memorial service was held at the close of lodge.

The hall and banquet room were beautifully decorated by Margaret Wilson, Lillian Ohlen, Neva Kenny, Jessie Silberbauer and Katherine Jones. Refreshments were served.

At the next meeting, July 4, Eva Dahl will be chairman.

Campbell Airmen Visit Home Town

Lt. Robert J. Agostinho and the crew of his Boeing B-17 Flying Fortress visited the J. C. Agostinho home for a few hours Sunday. They were on a routine flight from their base at Pyote, Texas, to Mills Field, and return, and visited Campbell between trips.

Lt. Jack Leverton and Lt. Darrell Farnham arrived Saturday from their New Mexico air base for a "Hello" flight visit. All the boys expressed their thanks to the home town people who had written to them—the letters were surely appreciated.

Youth Center Directors Dine

Hal Belyew, director of the youth center, took a group of young people into San Jose Wednesday night to a dinner meeting at the YWCA. It was a gathering of officers of various youth centers in the bay area sponsored by the California youth authority.

Kiwanis Week Observed by Campbell Club

President Herbert Shadle gave a message at Tuesday's meeting from the Kiwanis International which is meeting this week in Chicago.

For that reason all over the United States and Canada in all of the Kiwanis clubs this is being observed as all-Kiwanis week. Representing the 12th division and now in Chicago attending the convention is Lt.-Gov. W. H. Van Dyke.

Through the courtesy of the Standard Oil company the club was treated to some of the latest talkie film, showing recent battles in which our forces were engaged.

Representing the Standard Oil company were Art Hinton and George Duff of the sales department. Chairman of the day was Fred Jones.

Reports on the progress of the War Loan bond drive was given by Ethan Lanphear who stated that it was slow and that a much better response will have to be made to meet the increased quota.

A report was also given regarding the painting of the Boy Scout building, which is being carried on under the sponsorship of the club.

William Henley, the new superintendent of the Campbell grammar school, visited the club, as did also Joe McKinnon.

Next week the club will honor Miss Mary Fablinger, who is retiring from the faculty of the local grammar school, after years of faithful service.

Joseph V. Gomes will be chairman.

Did He Ever Get The Tooth Pulled?

Lt. Harold W. Drummond was commander of an army military police outfit which received notice in a recent army release for surprising a nazi soldier who was on his way to a dentist with a case of toothache, during the allied invasion of France June 16.

The amazed German was captured and was one of the many wounded prisoners removed to prisoner of war camps in the British Isles by the lieutenant's outfit.

Lt. Drummond was a physical education instructor at the Campbell high school at the time of his entry into the armed forces and Mrs. Drummond and their three-month-old son, Harold W. Jr., are living on Carlyn avenue. Drummond is one of many men in service who have yet to see their offspring.

Campbell Plant Closes Season

The Campbell Products company has completed its season run on dehydrating potatoes and cabbage and expects to have things all cleared up by the end of the week.

The food processed by the company has been to fill army orders, and has kept three shifts working since the plant was released after the prune season was over last fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Meginness of Campbell are parents of a daughter, Donna Mae, born June 6 at San Jose hospital.

AMERICA NEEDS A MAN

Captain Eddie Rickenbacher, ace flier and hero of two wars, listed in a recent speech the following qualifications for the leader who is to hold the high office of President of the United States during the next four years:

"A man who has convictions, with courage and character, to put them into action.

" A man who will not cater to or coddle minorities or pressure groups.

"A man who will think in terms of the welfare of the great American majority.

"A man who will recommend amending our labor laws to protect the American laboring men and women from racketeers and false leadership.

"A man who will respect states rights.

"A man who will guarantee to return all delegated wartime power to the elected representatives of the people when the war is over.

"A man who will reduce and keep Government expenses within the earning power of the people to pay.

" A man who will think in terms of America first, in order that America will last, as Churchill, Stalin and Chiang Kai-shek think of their own.

"A man who will cooperate with the other peoples of the world to insure a lasting peace, but not at the expense of the American people alone.

"A man whom the American people can believe after he is elected as well as before.

When the delegates to the Republican National Convention from every state in the Union assemble in Chicago the week of June 26 they will present to the voters of the nation a nominee for President who posesses these qualifications, who will be the man America needs in the crucial years from 1945 to 1949.

HEADS UP!

Modern living isn't easy. But we didn't realize it was quite so complicated until we read a description of it in the house organ of an Eastern manufacturing concern. Here is what the average man has to do if he wants to get by.

"First of all, he's got to keep his back to the wall and his ear to the ground. Then he's expected to put his shoulder to the wheel, his nose to the grindstone, keep a level head and both feet on the ground. And at the same time, look for the silver lining with his head in the clouds."

WAR MANNERS

Little Willie's table maners may not be impeccable in spite of mother's constant coaching. But the war has brought about official approval of at least some of Willie's eating technique.

No less a personage than Food Administrator Marvin Jones has declared that it may not be "such bad etiquette to pick up the bones in your fingers in order to get all the meat there is, to tip the soup bowl to get the last spoonful, and to sop up the gravy on the plate with a piece of bread."

We haven't heard Emily Post's reaction to Mr. Jones' views but we are sure that tens of thousands of little Willies around the country will heartily approve. Of course, Mr. Jones was not primarily thinking of small William but rather the necessity of curbing waste of our food supply. He estimated that 20 per cent of all food produced in this country goes into the garbage pail—food enough to feed the combined populations of Norway, Belgium, Greece and Czechoslovakia.

The Food Administrator is well aware that we are raising record crops. He knows that we have continent-spanning retail systems moving these crops from field to store over the shortest possible routes, eliminating waste handling and other leaks that once existed in our distribution system. But he also knows that in spite of these facts, continued carelessness with food in our homes might bring the day when we will face a serious shortage.

This is not to say that Mr. Jones expects a shortage, but war makes heavy food demands and it is best to be wise first than sorry later. Whether we stand by Emily Post or adopt the "little Willie" technique, let us make sure that we waste none of our food. It's a patriotic duty!

DECREASE IN "V" GARDENS

Mr. Gallup—of the famous poll—informs us that the number of victory gardens in the West is not up to that of last year and is nearly half a million short of the 1944 goal. A few months ago, seed companies were reporting heavy demands for vegetable seeds indicating increased interest in victory gardens. What happened? Maybe the removal of so many foods from the ration list has made people think that gardens aren't necessary this year. If so, they are forgetting that any surplus of food is only temporary and that most canned goods are expected the enthusiasm for working in the "backyard battal- the enthusiasm for working in he "backyard battalion" has subsided. But as long as the enthusiasm for eating remains, food must be produced. Of course victory gardens aren't expected to serve as the main source of our supply. Large-scale food distribution functioning through nation-spanning retail outlets brings us the bulk of what we need, but our victory gardens can supplement this suply and also act as a hedge against possible crop failures that might cause food shortages. Even at this time of the year it is still not too late to "get down to earth" and plant your victory garden.

INVASION NOTES

The most astonishing thing in the air operations accompanying the invasion of France was the success of heavy bombers against Germany's heavy coastal defense. The assault was made by 1300 Lancasters and Halifaxes of the RAF for six hours during early darkness of the invasion morning and was continued for another three hours by American bombers. The results surprised everybody, for the majority of German heavy guns never fired when the invasion got under way. In the preparation of maps for the French invasion coast the utmost secrecy was maintained by splitting the work into innumerable fragments and a minute portion being assigned to each draftsman and printer which conveyed nothing of the final picture. The fact that every firm in Britain capable of printing a map was continuously on the job during the last stages of preparation indicate the vastness of the enterprise. More maps of France have been produced in Britain during th past two years than by France herself in 2,000 years, the British War Office announced.

A daughter, Carolyn, was born June 9 at O'Connor sanitarium to Mr. and Mrs. John Vieira of Campbell.

The $5 federal auto use tax stamp, which must be affixed to autos by July 1, are on sale at the local post office.

Kathleen Norris Says:

Just What Are You Doing?

Bell Syndicate.—WNU Features.

"Nothing but soup, crackers and cookies, but how those tired men and women flock to the counter after work hours!"

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

A WOMAN asked me the other day if the letters I quote in these columns are genuine letters. I could answer her truthfully that every one is a real true human problem, but that I generally shift about the exact details, change the locale, and substitute for the real names other names that aren't particularly identifiable, like Brown, Baker, Davis, Smith. In the fifteen years during which I have been answering letters in this weekly article, I have never betrayed a confidence or been accused of publicizing what was meant to be private information.

So when today I quote the letters of several women you may be sure they are real, live American women who have handled the difficulties of war times, each in her own way. In every case, they are women who have discovered that the only cure for nerves and sleeplessness and bitter anxieties, in these days, is work, hard work, and plenty of it.

There is a job for every one of us now, and the only happy women in the world today are the women who are busy. Get absorbed in some helpful activity, get yourself so tired that a smooth bed, a reading light and a book look like heaven to you every night and you'll get through this crisis successfully. To be idle, reading the papers, listening to the radio, brooding over world-madness, is the shortest way to a breakdown.

Mrs. Brown Boards Children.

Well, then, here's Mrs. Brown of Kansas City, aged 29, with two young children. Mrs. Brown boards children at one dollar a day, keeps them overnight for two dollars a night. She has four regular little customers, whose mothers are war-workers and find the comfortable Brown home and garden a miraculous help. They call for their children every afternoon. Other young mothers, who need a day in town, or a day weekly for the Red Cross, gladly avail themselves of the Brown nursery. Two little brothers have stayed day and night for a month; Mrs. Brown gets $65 per month each for this care.

Does she get tired? Oh, yes, too tired to do anything but drop into bed after small boots have been cleaned and small clothes laid out after dinner. And what does Mr. Brown think of it? He likes it. His salary hasn't gone up in the last years; other expenses have. It was Mr. Brown who recently said to his wife that her nursery activities had removed the last gnawing worry that he had, in making him feel that should anything happen to him—the spectre that haunts all husbands and fathers!—she could take care of the children.

Then there is Mrs. Davis of Oakland, Calif. Mrs. Davis' husband and both sons are away in the services; she meditated opening a boarding house; changed her house instead into apartments. Living space is at a premium in that city and her old-fashioned 12-room house made seven fine flats, in one of which she lives.

Soup Bar Makes Money

Another smart woman is Mrs. Baker of Houston Texas. Mrs. Baker lives near a big plane factory; she had opened a soup bar.

Nothing but soup, crackers and cookies, but how the tired men and women flock to the counter after work hours! She has "rush hours" of course, but also she has a steady trickle of customers from 10 o'clock in the morning until she closes the bar at nine at night. She has two girls helping her; serves two soups daily. One a cream vegetable soup, the other a regular meal, like Italian minestrone. Beans, peas, onions, noodles, macaroni, tomatoes, soup bones—everything goes into it. She charges 25 cents a service and free helpings are taken for granted.

Not the least contribution to the safety and order of postwar America comes from these women who are proving their independence, who have struck out in simple, well-worn grooves to establish themselves financially. Perhaps the millions of magnificent nurses and Red Cross workers, the women who are giving their whole lives in the army or navy services, are showing a higher type of patriotism, because of a completer sacrifice. But there is many a man out on the battle fronts now who would be glad to receive a certain type of letter from the moping, self-pitying little woman he left at home. A letter saying that she has waked up and is busy and absorbed and that when he gets home there will be a neat little nest-egg ready for a celebration.

Eggs are Protein Food

Unrationed eggs are a source of one of the best protein foods and so take the place of meat. In addition, their present low cost makes them an excellent source of practically all the known vitamins except vitamin C and of several minerals needed in the daily meals.

Those who wish to buy eggs now at low prices can easily store 15 or 30 dozen or more in crocks or wooden tubs or metal pails, with the use of water glass. Such eggs will keep for many months.

GET A JOB!

Get into some useful war work, Kathleen Norris advises all women who are alone because their husbands or sons are away in service. Even women who have a little spare time can do something useful —and at the same time occupy their minds, and calm their nerves.

There is no cure for war jitters like hard work—plenty of work. People who come home too tired to do anything but drop into bed don't worry much—they're too exhausted. Jobs are everywhere—not only in factories but in restaurants, hospitals, Red Cross canteens —even your own home!

One married woman with two children cares for two or more children of war workers. Another runs a "soup bar" near an airplane factory. Many women are making a tidy income serving in some useful way. The money can go into war bonds, or a savings account for the time when HE comes home.

THE BOOK MARK

by marty

"THE FINAL HOUR" by Taylor Caldwell.

Were human beings not so dramatically human and were impassioned efforts not so inevitably chaotic, "The Final Hour" would not be so realistic.

Miss Caldwell, in this book, presents another brilliant and revealing chapter in the lives of the "terrible Bouchards." As you recall, the Bouchards were introduced to the world in this author's first book "Dynasty of Death" wherein they, the "terrible Bouchards" were protrayed as the family that owned and ruled the munitions plants and factories throughout the world. There have been other books by the same author about the same family, i. e., "The Eagles Gather", and "The Turnbulls."

Henri Bouchard, now in control of the great munitions empire founded by his grandfather, finds his domination of the firm threatened by other members of the family. The imperial nature of the company makes this family crisis into a battle whose reverberations can be heard throughout the modern world as Henri marshals his forces, by coercion and persuasion, to combat, not only this threat to his almost sovereign power, but also to defeat other forces directed against the kind of civilization that made possible the growth of such power.

Celeste Bouchard, distantly related to Henri, upon her return to this country fromEurope with her dying husband, finds herself caught up with this whirlwind of hatred and rivalry. Her hard-won isolation from the affairs of the family ended, her love for Henri places her in the very forefront of the battle. She contends it is through self-sacrifice alone that she can salvage anything from the havoc wrought by the clash.

Into this story the author has thrown the impassioned fire that has distinguished her earlier books. Heh characters are vital and immense. The intricate web of the plot flows directly out of the conflicting aims and motives of those characters. The emotional range that travels from the most delicate tenderness to the most violent hatred, incenses the theme and makes her earlier books. Her charbooks of the year.

Ice Follies Offers Excellent Show

Imagination, plus skill and wit are liberally blended in Shipstads' and Johnson's all-new Ice Follies of 1944 now playing nightly at Winterland in San Francisco.

San Francisco critics have acclaimed the 1944 edition of the dazzling ice revue as superceding all previous Follies in spectacular numbers, breathtaking costumes and finished technique of all artists.

Again this year, the Shipstad and Johnson troupe of 130 young performers display an abundance of athletic handsomeness combined with skating skill and wisdom in showmanship. Many of the stars and line personnel are ice skating champions and veterans in the show business.

Among the titlists is comedian Heinie Brock, a former national A. A. U. diving champion and participant in collegiate football, baseball, swimming and tumbling contests. Brock has been appearin Shipstad and Johnson ice shows for more than eight years.

Another champion is radiant Norah McCarthy, former women's Canadian Figure Skating Champion and runner-up for the North American title. She is teamed with young Michael Kirby, new star in the Ice Follies, and 1944 winner of the Canadian men's figure skating championship. Kirby once won the National Junior Pairs championship with Shirley Halsted, another Follies star.

Hazel Franklin, a newcomer to the show, won bronze and silver medals in her native England in competition tests for girls under fifteen. Other record holders in the Ice Follies roster of champions are Papez and Zwack, former Olympic Games competitors; and Fran Claudet, skating director for the troupe and a Canadian gold medalist. Betty Atkinson and young Bobby Blake both have several years of professional theatrical experience.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

The Tanda Camp Fire Group voted to hold their meetings during the summer. This group has been quite active during the year. They sold over 646 dozen doughnuts which paid for a large part of camp expense. Most of the girls plan to spend one or two weeksatCampWastahi in Big Basin. Winifred Hill sold 135 dozen, thus earning a ceremonial gown. Gayle Schrader came in second and also received a gown

These were given by Mrs. Norval Ingram, a former camp fire guardian.

The girls also collected books and magazines for men in the service and for the County Hospital. Gloria Megown and Mildred Weeks were chairman of the drive. Over 6,000 magazines were collected. Gloria brought in the most and received her registration fee to camp.

The guardian and some of the girls attended the grand ceremonial in San Jose last Saturday. Camp Fire Girls from all over the county attended. It was a patriotic service given out of doors and was much enjoyed. The girls that attended were Carol Olson, Margaret Cleveland, Winnie Hill, Charline Kuykendall, Florence Spears and Gloria Megown.

Anyone still having unchecked pressure cookers should take them to the Campbell hardware store before 9 o'clock Monday, as K. W. Van Gundy will be out again but this may be his last call.

The battle for the World is on!

NOW THAT the chips are down . . . now that our men are writing decisive history with their blood . . .

There can be no halfway measures for us.

The greatest battle in the history of the world must be matched by the greatest war loan in the history of the world.

That's what Uncle Sam says . . . the same Uncle Sam for whom your brothers and sweethearts and husbands are fighting and dying this very minute.

We, behind the lines, must do the same.

Remember, this is the battle for the WORLD. Our world. And we've got to win it. That's why Uncle Sam expects every dollar, like every soldier, to do its duty.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT BEFORE YOU PLAN A TRAIN TRIP

The railroad is a war industry. All train space is needed now to carry people doing war jobs and men in the armed forces. Such travelers should not be delayed. Every time you don't make an unnecessary train trip you aid the war drive by just that much.

S·P THE FRIENDLY SOUTHERN PACIFIC

George Howard Grimm of Minna street has had his driver's license suspended for two or more convictions of driving while intoxicated, Gordon Garland, state director of motor vehicles has announced.

Moldy Silage

Moldy or spoiled silage is dangerous to livestock and should be discarded.

Baked Beans

The most popular way to serve dry beans is baked. Increasing the amount of salt pork called for in the recipe increases the lusciousness of the dish.

"Janie," Comedy At San Jose Sunday Evening

"Janie," the riot of fun and merriment which closes at the Geary Theatre Saturday night, arrives in San Jose for one performance on next Sunday evening, June 25. The original New York production stars Edith Fellows, who at five years of age was the feature of the "Five Little Pepper" series. While still a child, playing the role of a demon brat in many of the films, young Edith was seen in such pictures as "Nobody's Children"; "Heart of the Rio Grande" with Gene Autry; "Her First Beau" with Jane Withers and Jackie Cooper; "Little Miss Roughneck" and "City Streets" with Leo Carillo; "Her First Romance" with Allan Ladd; "Pride of the Blue Grass"; "So They Were Married" with Mary Astor; "Pennies From Heaven" with Bing Crosby; "She Married Her Boss with Claudette Colbert.

According to the San Francisco Chronicle, "Janie" runs a fair chance of becoming a permanent acquisition to the American stage. Of the type of "Kiss and Tell" and "Junior Miss," "Janie has captivated sophisticated adults as well as youth. Tickets are on sale at the Denny-Watrous box office, auditorium.

Explains Why Some Blood Donors Rejected

Mrs. Kenneth Conn, chairman of San Jose chapter, American Red Cross, blood donor service has made the following explanation of why some of those who volunteer to make blood donations have been refused:

"The new method as prescribed by national headquarters is much more drastic, as was explained in last week's press notice. In regard to blood pressure rulings from the national research council for the protection of blood donors state that if the diastolic pressure is above 110 they are arbitrarily refused. Between 100 and 110, they are accepted only on the authority of the physician in charge. The former limits of systolic pressure, that is, 190, remain the same.

Every physicia n realizes that under the excitement and nervousness incident to coming to the procurement center, the blood pressure is apt to be materially but temporarily elevated. It is realized, therefore ,that certain donors may be refused seemingly unjustly, but in view of all the circumstances, these rulings from national headquarters are for the protection of all donors and must be rigidly enforced. The technical staff, as far as time will permit, endeavors to explain to refused donors the reason for the refusal. The San Jose blood donor service committee has nothing to do with these regulations and trust that donors for their own safety will cooperate with staff rulings."

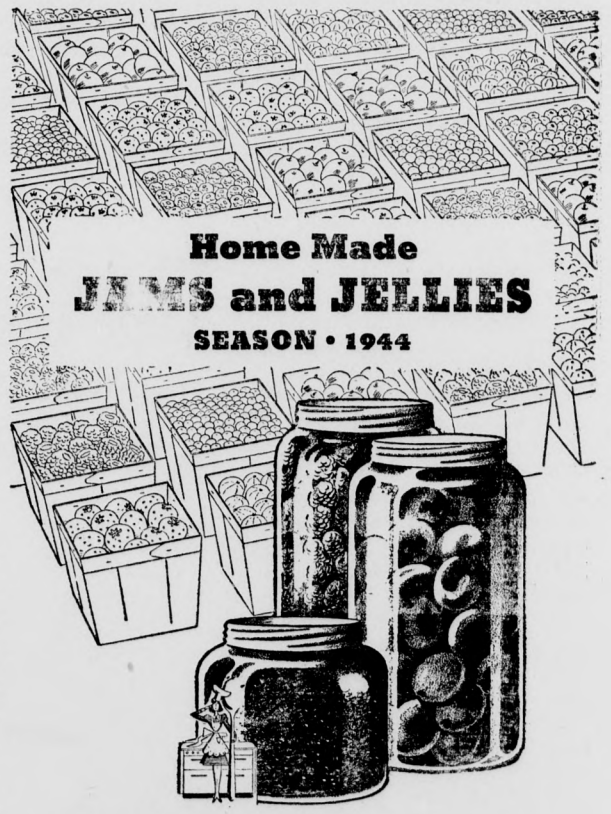
TB Association Directors Meet

The first meeting of the new board of directors of the Santa Clara County Tuberculosis Association was held Monday night, June 12, at the County Sanatorium with Dr. Charles L. Ianne presiding. Over 30 members were present.

Standing committees for the year were elected at a brief business meeting which immediately followe.d Dr. Henry Dahleen, superintendent of the County Hospital, spoke briefly, and Junior and senior cadet nurses gave a demonstration of isolation technique carried out in the sanatorium to prevent the spread of tuberculosis germs.



HAVE more sweets
SAVE Ration Points

M-m-m- that FLAVOR! Is there anything that so brings out the boy in a man as a generous gob of home-made jam or jelly plunked on a slice of bread? And how especially satisfying it is if there is plenty more on the pantry shelves.

Ladies...prepare for Food Commandos who raid your kitchen. Put up p-l-e-n-t-y of jams and jellies and fruits during the next few months. There is extra sugar alloted for this purpose. Fill your pantry shelves with healthful sweets. You will contribute to the war effort by making more canned foods available to our boys overseas.
